SOMETHING ABOUT TAXES.

Taxation without representation is a source from which much trouble has arisen. The little family difficulty that came along between the mother country and its colonies originated in a matter of taxes proposed to be imposed upon the people without their consent.

Taxation among civilized men and nations has been and will be public business directed by leading nations continue to be a theme for thought and discussion for all time. The ability to collect a tax largely depends upon the ability of the people to earn the wherewith to pay the levy, and the ability to earn depends upon the opportunities that the environments of the people provide. As the ability and opportunity to earn are curtailed or enlarged the people are cheerful or dissatisfied about the payment of taxes. It seems to be confirmed by time and history that man when created was intended to make the very best use possible for him to make of adverse surroundings, and he cheerfully goes to work and dies out whatever there is to be had by hard toil, physical or mental, and so long as nature and opportunities provided by nature respond to give him a living or an existence he is inclined to be content and happy when he pays his taxes. It is fair to presume that the business economists of the Central Pacific Company read the Declaration of Independence, and learned at the beginning of business dealings with the people that the people would submit to almost unlimited abuse in the matter of taxes before resorting to force, or the unconscionable rule of all the traffic will bear would not have been made a part of its business economy. If the Central Pacific Company had made a limit "at all the traffic will bear" the bearing upon the people of Nevada of the unconscionable rule would not have been so unbearable. As it is, in connection with other taxes, State and municipal, they are required to pay to aid a tyrant. When it is known to the people that the Central Pacific Company is saving $100,000 annually because assessments made on its property in the State are less than the assessments made on the property of the people the tax burden may not be borne so comfortably as it has been. To the minds of inquiring people it will no doubt appear impossible that taxation could be so unequal. People who may not understand the means by which unjust taxes are imposed upon them and upon each property-holder in the State are honest, and are a part of the people who are content to pay taxes when they have money, or when they can acquire the means to pay by honest labor. The body of industrial people depend largely upon the integrity of those who have the direction of public matters, and in confidence they turn from those who have been chosen to manage official business, believing that it will be honestly conducted. It has not occurred to the industrial and better classes that the means used to take from them their earnings by excessive taxation is politics as conducted in this State, and that each of these in the State is a consideration paid by the agent of the railroad company to provide methods that will benefit the company in the matter of its business, and especially in the matter of tax.

The JOURNAL is trying to organize a force that will oppose the past and present usurpation of political rights of the people, and if possible place the management of State and county affairs in their hands, where it rightfully belongs, and more particularly should the management of the affairs of state be in their hands as they are paying upon a basis of property values not less than three-fourths more taxes upon their property than the railroad company pays upon its property.

Should we continue to examine into the management of politics in the State we may learn the causes more fully than we now know them that prompt the railroad company to keep Charles Wallace almost continuously at work in the State, whose business it is to hold the State where it now is politically, and through politics hold over the people a lash in the form of threats.

FIN DE SIECLE.

Labori, the counsel for Dreyfus, having appealed in vain to the cross-eyed goddess that presides over French justice, has asked the monarchs of Germany and Italy to aid the cause of his client.

Nearer and nearer to the jagged rocks of distraction drifts the ship of state. Meanwhile the sails are untripped and the tiller is swinging free. The crew are under battered hatches, concerned only with the bickerings of race hatred and the machinations of two opposing forces seeking power, while clearly, above the tumultuous outcries of "Live the army!" and "Live the Republic!" can be heard the beating of the surf above the reefs of ruin. Will France and the century end together?

Jones Goes Free.

Gus Jones, who was arrested several days ago on a charge of having a wagon load of stolen brass in his possession, is again a free and happy man.

The watchman at the power house was unable to identify the junk and the charge was dismissed.

Gus came down from Virginia yesterday. He says his arrest only shows how many friends he had. The Comstock boys offered to go his bail in any amount.

Will Pull for Nevada.

Dr. Stabbe, who was invited to attend the Irrigation Congress at Missoula, Montana, and read a paper, has announced his intention of complying. Col. Maxson will address the convention.

These gentlemen will make a strong pull to secure for Nevada the proposed Government experimental storage reservoir. May good luck attend them.

Tell What's Happening.

County Superintendent Williams requests all school boards to notify his office of change in teachers, time of opening and closing term and other information concerning school work in the county. The JOURNAL man, who digs the Superintendent's office in vain for news, says "Amen."

Institute Program.

County Superintendent Williams and Professor John Edwards Bray of the board of examiners met last night and outlined a program for the proposed teachers' institute. Publication will be made as soon as the work is fully completed.

Are After Dough.

Messrs. Bird and Kiter are out for the coin. They are collecting subscriptions toward the Nevada State fair. About $1,000 had been subscribed and it is being cheerfully paid.

Some One Had to Stay.

The story below is from El Diario, an Argentine newspaper published in Spanish. The anecdote is told of a prison in a provincial town in Argentina:

"An employee, whose duty it was to inspect them, arrived late at night at one of them and asked a 'ragged gaucha' who opened the door where the chief of police was.

"The chief, sir," he answered, "lives at his farm, three or four leagues off. He seldom comes."

"And the second of police?"

"The second has not come for some time, sir. The poor man has his wife ill."

"And the officer of the guard?"

"He has been invited to a dance."

"And the gendarmes?"

"The gendarmes, sir, finish their duty at 6 p. m. and don't return till next day."

"But this is a scandal! There is nobody here to explain things. And you? Who are you?"

"I am the prisoner, sir."

The whole thing reads like an incident from a comic opera. But it is a perfectly literal translation from the paper mentioned.

He Answered It.

The following story is told of how Thomas B. Reed was admitted to the bar in California: Mr. Reed was being examined as to his qualifications for the law along with several companions. The question "Was the legal tender act, in your opinion, constitutional?" was asked of the candidate sitting next to Mr. Reed. The young man hesitated, as well he might, for even the justices of the supreme court had spent many weary days hearing arguments on that particular question, and after once deciding that it was unconstitutional afterward reversed their decision. While the young man hesitated, the judge turned to Mr. Reed, saying, "What do you think, Mr. Reed—was the act constitutional?"

"It was," replied Mr. Reed, without a moment's hesitation.

"Very good," was the reply; "you are admitted to the bar. Any man who can answer offhand a question that is still puzzling the supreme court of the United States is certainly pre-eminently qualified to practice law before this court."—Washington Letter.

The Missed Dish.

A schoolmaster in a village school had been in the habit of purchasing pork from parents of his pupils on the occasion of the killing of the pig. One day a small boy marched up to the master's desk and inquired "if he would like a bit of pork, as they were going to kill their pig."

The schoolmaster replied in the affirmative. Several days having elapsed, and hearing nothing of the pork, the master called the boy up to him and inquired the reason he had not brought it.

"Oh, please, sir," the boy replied, "the pig got better."—San Francisco Argonaut.

"Eaten a Mountain."

A good example of the caustic humor of a Scotch examiner sends this way from we know not where. It seems that Scotch parish schoolmasters are, on their appointment, examined as to their literary qualifications. One of the fraternity being called by his examiner to translate Horace's ode beginning "Exegi monumentum oere penitus," began as follows: "Exegi monumentum." (I have eaten a mountain.) "Ah," said one of the examiners, "ye needna proceed any further; for after eaten sic a dinner this parish wad be a pair mouthfu' t' ye. Ye maun try some wider sphere."—Foot Lore.

TROUT FISHING IN THE TRUCKEE

This Sport is Likely to Pinch Out Unless the Fish are Protected.

A man from Ohio elevated his feet in the hotel office and opened his mouth and spoke as follows:

"The Truckee is a mighty fine trout stream. There is good fishing here even if fishways are missing, hobos and Indians snare trout illegally, and everybody with money enough to buy a joint pole or a knife to cut a willow rod with, sits on the banks of the stream days, nights and Sundays.

"But let me tell you that the fun won't last always. Just wait till the Floriston paper mill starts up. When they dump their waste the fish will turn up their tails from the mill to Wadsworth."

"This happened in my State. The trout were all killed. I don't know what chemicals they put in the waste but they are sure death to fish.

"By the way, I don't believe it will improve the city drinking water a great deal, either."

District Attorney E. L. Williams was deeply thinking while the man from Ohio talked. He said:

"I notice that the JOURNAL man has his notebook out. I want him to put this down:

"It is the duty of the District Attorney to strictly enforce the laws for the protection of our fishy friends, but I do not wish to take extreme measures. Fish ladders are a prime necessity, and I am pleased to see that some of the dam (shem!) owners are complying with the law in this respect.

"A fine fishway has recently been built at the Electric Light Company's dam. When Fish Commissioner Vogel-sung of California was here he highly praised this fishway. Dam-owners who have not as yet put in fishways may well follow in Superintendent Kaiser's footsteps."

Justice Court.

Yesterday was very quiet in and around Judge Linn's palace of justice, only one subject being prescribed for. Ben Turbin was fined $30, or fifteen days in the county jail, for being mistaken as to the ownership of a purse containing money.

Died in San Francisco.

SUMMONS

IN THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT Court of the State of Nevada, in and for Washoe county. The State of Nevada, do hereby certify that

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you as defendant by Caroline E. Scott, as plaintiff, in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein, within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of day of service), if served in said county; or, twenty days if served out of said county; but within said district, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The action is brought to recover a judgment against you, defendant, by plaintiff for the dissolution of the bonds of matrimony existing between you and her; for her custody of her and your daughter Eliza A. Scott for your support of the estate of this suit and such division of common property in your possession that the Court deems just. Said complaint alleges that plaintiff has resided in Reno, Washoe County, State of Nevada, more than six months; that you for two or more years in the past have neglected to provide her with the common necessities of life, though able to do so; that you and she married at Quincy, Plumas County, Cal., Sept. 20, 1893 and have ever since been husband and wife; that you and she have three children, Ray, 13 years, Charles, about 16, and Clifford, about 9 years of age; that you live at Nauraria, Idaho; that plaintiff has no separate property and is indigent; that you are worth $100 and make $0 per month over expenses as a blacksmith; all of which will more fully appear from the complaint, which is on file in the office of the clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially referred. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded therein.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hands at Reno this 28th day of July, A. D. 1899.

Discovered by Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and two bottles, has absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. Thus writes H. C. Hamrick & Co. of Shelby N. C. Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Ever bottle guaranteed.

The Best in the World.

We believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best in the world. A few weeks ago we suffered with a severe cold and a troublesome cough, and having read their advertisements in our own and other papers we purchased a bottle to see if it would effect us. It cured us before the bottle was more than half used. It is the best medicine out for coughs and colds.—The Herald, Andersonville Indiana. For sale by W. Pinniger.

RENO DRAMATIC CLUB TO OPEN THE BALL.

This Organization First to Move in the Matter of a Reception for Our Returning Soldier Laddies—Will Give a Benefit in the Near Future.

[COMMUNICATED]

HURRAH for the Nevada boys! The suggestions in the JOURNAL have awakened a desire in our hearts to give the Nevada soldiers a royal welcome. The Reno Dramatic club have offered to produce a play for the benefit of the returning heroes. One of the best plays that can be secured will be given, and the people of Reno should patronize it liberally. There is no expectation that any boxes will be sold for $1000, but "standing room only" should be the motto early in the evening.

Now that the ball has been given the impetus, let one and all do their part in advancing the work of a reception for the boys. Giving up, as many of them did, good positions, for the sake of defending their home and country in the hour of need, it is but right that such positions should be secured for them upon their return.

Every county in the state should do its part, and every citizen who can do nothing else should at least buy a tin horn and blow it. Call a public meeting at once; appoint committees and get to work, for the time is short and the Nevada boys must not come home without receiving a welcome of which they may one and all be proud.

THEY WILL BEGIN WORK AT ONCE

Manager O'Toole of the California & Nevada Mining Co. Arrives.

Dan O'Toole of Oakland, manager for the California and Nevada Copper Mining Company, arrived in Reno yesterday and is at the Palace. Mr. O'Toole is a man of wide experience and good judgment. He will go systematically to work to develop the newly acquired property of the company in Pyramid district.

A carload of tools, cars and track is expected to arrive for the company today. They will be immediately hauled to the mines and work started without delay. Lumber was purchased yesterday for the construction of a camp. Joseph O'Dette of this city will run the boarding house.

Reno will be made the base of supplies. Employment will be furnished a number of experienced hard rock miners at $3 a day.

The first work to be done underground will be the extension of the 1700 foot tunnel in the Crown Prince claim until the ledge is struck, which is thought to be about 200 feet ahead. This will give 700 feet of stoping.

It will depend upon the richness and width of the ledge what means will be used in working the ore. If it is as good on this level as at the surface it will be a matter of a very short time until a smelter will be put at the mine.

The dyke on the surface is a couple of hundred feet wide, 23 feet of it being good ore. Several hundred tons of pay rock are lying on the dump.

Glorious News.

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile of Wabbits, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters have cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent. This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson's Druggist Guaranteed.

He Fooled the Surgeons.

All doctors told Renick Hamilton of West Jefferson, O., after suffering 18 months from Rectal Fistula, that he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest Pile cure on Earth, and the best Salve in the world. 25 cents a box. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson, druggist.

The Appetite of a Goat.

Is envied by all poor dyspeptics whose Stomach and Liver are out of order. All such should know that Dr. King's New Life Pills, the wonderful Stomach and Liver Remedy, gives a splendid appetite, sound digestion and a regular bodily habit that insures perfect health and great energy. Only 25 cents, at Hodgkinson's drug store.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR BRYAN MEETING

Committees at Work Preparing for the Silver Champion's Reception.

At 8 o'clock this evening William Jennings Bryan will alight from the Virginia & Truckee train and find himself in the midst of a host of enthusiastic "feller citizens."

Should the east bound train be reported late the address will be delivered from a stand in Riverside park opposite the Court House.

If a close connection between trains will not permit this arrangement he will speak opposite the passenger depot. A carriage containing members of the committee will drive Mr. Bryan to the park and an escort of ladies will conduct Mrs. Bryan and children.

The executive and general reception committee met last night in the office of Bonham & Stoddard and completed arrangements for the reception. A band of music and other accessories were provided for.

It is hoped that as many of the reception committee and other citizens as possible will go to Carson this afternoon to attend the reception in the Capital City and escort Mr. Bryan to Reno. It is announced that the railroad will sell one dollar round trip tickets.

ROUND THE WORLD ON A BICYCLE

Reyman, the "Lone Cycicler" Passes Though This City.

The other day there passed incoog, through Reno a cyclist who is on the homestretch of a tour of the world awhel. The Truckee Republican gives his itinerary as follows:

He left New York city on the 13th of February, 1897. From there he sailed to England, crossed that country and entered the continent at Havre, France; thence across France and Germany and into Russia. He was snowbound in Russia for five months. In Warsaw the Polish Bicycle Club received him cordially, and showed him many favors.

His journey over the steppes and swamps of Siberia was a trying one, and beset at times with almost unmountable difficulties. However, he succeeded in getting across that barren and unwelcome country in safety, and has the distinction of being the first cyclist to accomplish that difficult undertaking.

In Manchuria he even found more trying conditions and more unpropitious surroundings. In crossing that country he not only encountered bridgeless streams, foul swamps, burning deserts, mazy forests and rugged mountains, but the savage hordes of that heathen country pursued him as the emissary of Kweidom, and in terror-stricken fear tried every way to destroy him, but, fearing immediate contact with him, he escaped.

He crossed Korea, but found the people of the "hermit kingdom" quite tractable.

He sailed to Japan, and at Yokohama took a United States transport from Manila, and reached his native country safely a few days ago.
